

Creative Campus learning with latitude

The pie charts are the results from a survey conducted with our students [P3 to GP]. The aim was to look at the areas Creative Campus could improve on, so as to better meet our students' needs. Hence we had included 5 categories for students to opt: most definitely agree, agree, neutral, disagree and most definitely disagree. The survey was anonymous but students had the option to include their names, if they wished.

My grades have improved since I began attending Creative Campus

The Curriculum is innovative and engaging

Creative Campus started in 2011 with its pioneering batch of 30 students in the first month, but our directors each have over 23 years of experience teaching, developing curriculum and training teachers.

We pride ourselves in fostering in our students the twin goals of excelling in school and cultivating the love for English as an essential life skill. Many of our students remain in Creative Campus for at least 5 years. Our graduating cohorts have gone on to pursue their university education in top-tier colleges and universities, both locally and abroad, while our ex-students have secured careers that they are passionate about.
